

Business counseling available in Cuero

April 6, 2006

Advocate Staff Report

CUERO - A business adviser with the University of Houston Small Business Development Center will be in Cuero on the first Friday of each month to meet with existing and potential business owners. The next scheduled visit is Friday, May 5, at the DeWitt Technology Center.

The SBDC provides confidential counseling, training and technical assistance to businesses at no charge. Areas of assistance include financial analysis, marketing, information research and loan proposal development.

With SBDC assistance, business owners develop their management skills for a better chance of success. To schedule an appointment, contact the SBDC office at 1-877-895-SBDC or 361-575-8944.

For more information about the SBDC, go to www.sbdcvictoria.com.

The Dewitt Technology Center is part of the Dewitt Community Development Foundation and is at 109 Cooperative Way off U.S. Highway 183.
